

Screenflex is committed to delivering products of exceptional quality and durability. Screenflex fully warrants its products against defects in materials and workmanship for the warranty period. If a product defect arises due to faulty materials or workmanship, Screenflex will replace or repair the product to a serviceable condition at no cost to the original purchaser, provided the product was properly installed and maintained according to the manufacturer's instructions.

WARRANTED PRODUCTS

- Heavy Duty Dividers: Industry-leading lifetime warranty on materials and workmanship
- Officeflex Cubicles: 7-year limited warranty on materials and workmanship
- All other Screenflex products: For all other Screenflex products, we offer a limited 3-year warranty.

Screenflex makes no warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose and is not liable for any consequential or special damages.

Screenflex offers no other warranties except for the warranties expressly set forth above. All repairs and returns must be approved in writing by the factory before action is taken.

To process a warranty claim, you must provide the product purchase date and a copy of the invoice. Repair or replacement is the buyer's sole remedy for defective products.

Screenflex's liability is limited to the purchase price.
